McCONNELL NOT AFTER OFFICE

La Crosse Lawyer Will not Accept Nomination for Attorney General

In spite of urgent requests and promises of support from nearly all of the big administration leaders in the state J. E. McConnell of this city formally declined this morning to become a candidate for attorney general on the republican ticket, subject to the September primaries.
Mr. McConnell's decision was reached after giving the matter serious thought for a couple of months, since the first urgent demands for him to make the run began to come in from republican friends at home and in various portions of the state. Mr. McConnell's reason for refusing to become a candidate for this important and attractive position is the sacrifice of private professional business which acceptance of the office would entail. The duties and responsibilities of this office are constantly increasing, due in a large measure to reform legislation enacted during the administration of Governor La Follette; but the salary remains the same as it was 20 years ago, $3,000 a year, when there was but little work in the office and a lawyer could hold the position and still find time to attend to a large private practice.
It is a well known fact that Attorney General Sturdevant during his present term has had to spend practically all of his time in Madison, and during the last regular session of the legislature for nearly six months he worked day and night. It is a sacrifice for any good lawyer to devote the time and money to go through a campaign for this office and then attend to the arduous duties of the position for a salary of but $3,000 a year.
Local administration leaders who were seen this morning expressed regret that Mr. McConnell would not consent to make the run. The assurances of support received from around the state indicate beyond a doubt that he could have secured the nomination, and his election would have followed as a matter of course.
Mr. McConnell when seen in his office and asked as to the truth of the report that he had decided to decline to enter the field, said:
"Yes, I have concluded not to become a candidate. I have given the matter considerable thought and have received many offers of support from friends here and elsewhere for which I am grateful. The office attracts me from a professional standpoint but its duties are such as to practically necessitate residence in Madison, and I do not feel that I would want to make the personal and professional sacrifice which would be necessary should I be elected."

GOOD RATES FOR THE FAIR

Secretary Van Auker of the Interstate Fair association received word this morning that the western passenger association had granted extraordinary low rates for the fair this year on all railroads running into La Crosse. The rate quoted for La Crosse is one fare for the round trip to points 150 miles from La Crosse, including Mankato and Wells, Minn., which are outside of this limit.
The tickets are good from Monday of fair week to the next Monday inclusive. The following dispatch was received from the passenger association:
"La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 24-29. La Crosse Inter-state fair rate of one fare for the round trip with minimum selling rate of 25 cents from all points from which the local one way rate to La Crosse is $4.50 or less, also from Mankato and Wells, Minn.; excursion tickets to be sold on September 24-29, inclusive, good to return, leaving La Crosse until and including October 1, 1906."

MRS. DITTMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Sophia Dittman, widow of August F. Dittman and a resident of La Crosse for over half a century, died this noon after a lingering illness, aged 78.
Deceased was born in Germany and came to this country and to La Crosse with her husband in 1853. She has resided here continuously since. Mr. Dittman died 13 years ago. Surviving are three sons, Fred, August and Will, all residents of La Crosse. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

CATCHES TIMBER WOLF ALIVE

The spectacle of a live gray timber wolf of the species nearly extinct in this country, attracted a large crowd of people on the market square this noon.
The animal, secured in a crate in the rear of a wagon was brought to town by Fred Debel, a Houston county horse trader, who captured the animal when it was small and reared it to its present full grown size. The savage instincts of the animal cropped out on the square when an effort was made to muzzle the beast so it could be led away. The wolf snapped at everyone who approached and it required the combined efforts of three men coupled with considerable diplomacy, to get the animal finally muzzled. It was reported this afternoon that the wolf had been sold to some one in the city.

MRS. AGNES SCHMITZ

Deceased is survived by one daughter, who lives at home.
The funeral arrangements will be announced later.
Ray Long has been subpoenaed upon the Hayes case as a witness.

A CHILD'S WILD RIDE UNDER CARS

Infant Sits on Cross Bar While Train Plunges Down Big Hill

Hanging for eight miles on a cross bar between two freight cars down the hill between Wykoff and Fountain with a freight train going 40 miles an hour, George Kuster, the four year old son of Prof. and Mrs. Kuster of Wykoff was taken off the train at Fountain uninjured this afternoon.
How the little fellow ever succeeded in staying in his perilous position and escaped death beneath the wheels of the train is a miracle that no one can explain.
The story was told by Conductor Murphy, who came in with the afternoon Southern Minnesota passenger. The little fellow was playing about the depot and while the train was standing there in some manner clambered up on the cross bar between two freight cars. The train started out after a brief stop for Fountain. Coming down grade it went at a terrific rate between the two stations. Half way between a brakeman who was walking over the top chanced to look down between the cars and saw the child sitting on the cross bar hanging onto the upright brakeway with its little hands, each sway of the train threatening to throw him to the ground. The baby did not seem to realize its danger but rather appeared to be enjoying the ride. Terrified the brakeman did not dare to utter a sound for fear of frightening the child into letting go his hold, but gave a signal to stop the train. The momentum of the freight was so great, however, that the engine could not be stopped until the outskirts of the village of Fountain were reached. The little boy was taken from its perilous position unharmed and sent back home with a team to the anxious parents who had missed the boy.
The lad's father is principal of the Wykoff school. Trainmen says it is one of the most miraculous escapes ever recorded in railroad annals in this part of the country.

WANTS $5,000 FOR SON'S DEATH

Suing for $5,000 for the death of his son, Joseph Hayes, who was killed by the cars at Sparta, the case of James Hayes vs. the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad company was called in circuit court this morning.
Joseph Hayes was a brakeman on the road and met his death in the performance of his duty at Sparta in January, 1905. The plaintiff will claim that gross negligence on the part of other employees of the road who failed to respond to signals was largely responsible for the death of Hayes.
The plaintiff is represented in court by Winter & Esch and Morris & Hartwell and the defense by Woodward & Lees and Chief Counsel Wro-

WOOLEN MILLS TO LOCATE

Onalaska Industry Comes Here

NEW BOARD'S FIRST WORK

Manager Stickler of the Concern Announces Change Today

The rejuvenated board of trade has secured its first manufacturing industry for La Crosse.
Announcement was made this morning by D. C. Stickler, manager of the Onalaska Woollen Manufacturing Co. that he had decided to move his plant to La Crosse all negotiations for a site having been concluded through the efforts of Secretary Reid and other officers of the board of trade who have been active in the campaign to secure the industry for La Crosse.
The plant will be located in the building until recently occupied by the Staats Regalia company at George and North streets North La Crosse, which has been purchased by the company, all details of the transfer having been attended to.
The board of trade did a good stroke of business in securing this factory, Rockford, Ill., having offered it a bonus to locate there when it was found that the plant had outgrown its quarters in Onalaska. So rapidly has the business grown during the last few months that the company found it necessary to call in all the traveling salesmen and refuse to book any more orders for delivery in the near future.
In its new location on the north side the woollen mills will have a larger field from which to employ hands and also the benefit of a much larger factory. The plant when moved will employ about 30 hands regularly the year around and it is probable that this number will eventually be greatly increased as the business grows.
D. C. Stickler expressed himself this afternoon as greatly pleased over his new building and the advantages the site afforded, and was enthusiastic over the work done by the board of trade.

AT THE THEATRES

The accompanying cut, is a good likeness of Miss Edith who is appearing this week at the Bijou in a playette entitled "Her Last Chance." Those who have been fortunate enough to see it term the little farce one of the best seen at that popular theatre this season. Mr. Clinton, under whose direction this clever skit is presented, is one of the few fortunate or determined men in the profession today, ranking with Cecil Lean in the Empire in Chicago for being determined not to be separated from his wife in the struggle for supremacy in the theatrical line. Miss Dombay in private life being Mrs. Clinton. When they decided to cast their lot and set sail together on the broad and troubled sea of matrimony they also resolved never to be separated. Both have had very flattering offers with dramatic productions but not lucrative enough for both together, so they arrived at the conclusion that a sketch in vaudeville would fill the bill and so they selected the sketch they are now presenting. None who have seen this exceptionally clever team assisted by their excellent company, can deny that they have to use the slang phrase "struck their gait." "Her Last Chance" has been the cause of many a good long, hearty laugh this week at this popular play house.

Miss Dombay is a thorough sports-woman and holds medals for her skill on the golf links as well as numerous trophies for first place as a marks-woman.

QUALITIES OF WHITE BEAVER

"People of Milwaukee and Wisconsin, though they have often heard of 'White Beaver' Powell, La Crosse, who recently died of heart disease, have not estimated him at his true worth as a man," said R. O. Hunt, La Crosse, in Milwaukee. "He was not only a crack pistol shot and a sort of wild western type, chief of the Winnebago Indians and all that. He was a good man, with a heart as big as an ox and as tender as a woman. He was a doctor by profession, and a rattling good doctor at that. He never was known to turn down a case because the people could not pay. His office was the mecca for poor people who wanted the services of a good physician at rates that were reasonable. He never was known to press a poor man for a bill. The poor people of La Crosse learned to love him for this trait, as well as many others of a similar nature. They had faith in him as a doctor, and they found that he never required an advance payment or any kind of a guarantee that they would pay by a certain time or at all. When he ran for mayor, the people from the byways and hedges who looked upon him as a good friend flocked to his support, and more than once nominated and elected him mayor when the republicans and democrats had combined on another candidate to defeat him."

MRS. GILFILLAN IS A CANDIDATE

Nomination papers are being circulated throughout the country and city for the nomination of James H. Gilfillan for register of deeds.

Mr. Gilfillan is a resident of West Salem and is one of the old wheel-horses of the republican party, and his candidacy is looked upon favorably by many of the leading republicans throughout the country. It is

EXPOSURES OF GRAFT IN MINNESOTA SEEMS ROTTEN

Minneapolis, May 11.—The attorneys today will begin their summing up in the case of state against W. F. Bechtel, ex-president of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company, who is charged with grand larceny in having appropriated to his own use $3,500 of the funds of the company. The testimony given by Bechtel in his direct examination and the information elicited from the witness on cross-examination by Attorney Dahl was sensational in the extreme.

Charge Against a State Officer.
The charge Bechtel made that an insurance commissioner of Minnesota had accepted a bribe of $5,000 for a favorable report on the proposed consolidation of the Northwestern Mutual and the National Life association had been considered by the grand jury which brought the indictment against Bechtel, and in its report the grand jury severely reprobated the alleged conduct of the insurance commissioner, but said that he was exempt from prosecution because of the statute of limitations.

Not in Business for His Health.
The ex-insurance commissioner accused is O'Shaughnessy, and Bechtel said that he paid him $5,000 in marked bills in a room of the Hotel Ryan at St. Paul. He said that O'Shaughnessy told him: "I'm not in the business for my health."

How Force Was "Reimbursed."
The amounts paid through Bechtel for the "reimbursement" of Dr. J. F. Force, ex-president of the National Life association, according to the testimony brought out, aggregated $113,500, of which no record is found in the Northwestern National's books. The items as detailed by Bechtel were: $30,000 paid in cash from the company's funds; $20,000 in notes given by Bechtel on the company's account; $13,500 transferred by the new company in its own stock; $15,000 (market value) transferred by the new company in stock of the Northwestern National bank; $10,000 paid in cash in 1901; $10,000 paid in cash in 1902; $10,000 paid in cash in 1903; $5,000 paid in cash in 1904.

Bechtel's Personal Profits.
Other sensational statements made by Bechtel while on the stand related to personal profits made by transactions supposedly carried on for the benefit of the company. The company contracted to reinsure an Iowa company, but instead of doing so Bechtel turned the contract over to a California company at a profit of $40,000. The Minneapolis Auditorium building, which the Northwestern National Life erected, also was gone into, and it was shown that Bechtel owned the site selected for the building, and that it was sold to the company at a profit to Bechtel of $40,000.

Bechtel also testified that he had paid $30,000 to Superintendent of Agencies Campbell for the surrender of his contract.

Harry Hamilton, who has been visiting his parents here for a few days, has returned to his work in Chicago.

DEBATE MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

The high school will debate Friday evening, May 18 the question, "Resolved that it is advisable for American cities to own and operate their system of street railways."

Affirmative—Isadore Rehiuss, Ike Strauss and Mabel Bayant.

Negative—Edward Burns, Helen Schofield and Henrietta Martindale.

Unusual efforts by the teachers of the high school are being exerted to make this debate an interesting and instructive one, as American cities all over the country are agitating municipal ownership of the public service utilities.

They have been in correspondence with the leading agitators of municipal ownership, and are prepared to give the citizens of La Crosse who attend this debate important information touching upon this proposition.

An admission fee of 15c will be charged, the proceeds to go towards the purchase of books and references for the use of the club.

NORTH SIDE BRIEFS

The employees of the rubber mills are complaining about the walk to their factory. As this is the only walk leading to the mills and a large number of people walk over it every day it should be kept in fair order.

A. V. Manchester, formerly of the north side, but at present assistant district master mechanic, and N. M. Maine, district master mechanic of Milwaukee, are in the city on an inspection tour.

A train of 18 cars of logs passed over the Milwaukee road for Muscatine yesterday.

William Hindsay, claim agent for the Milwaukee road is in the city to attend the damage case regarding J. Hayes vs. the C. M. & St. Paul road.

George Martean has left for near Wabasha where he will be engaged in cooking for a crew who will "riprap" from King's Coulee to Lake City.

The children of the St. James school spent the afternoon on the bluffs yesterday. All brought home a large bouquet of wild flowers.

The north side base ball team will give a grand ball this evening in the Rose street Union hall. Excellent music will be furnished by the Kreutz orchestra. The team was recently organized and the proceeds will be used for equipment for the team in the way of suits, bats, gloves, etc.

L. E. Lavaque the Rose street grocer is receiving much comment upon the ingenuity of his window displays of late. His present display is very attractive especially in the evening with the electrical effects.

Miss Bessie Herrington left this morning for a trip to Sparta, Bangor, and Campbell, respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Mosser of 1534 Loomis street, mourn the loss of their infant daughter yesterday morning. The body was interred in the Catholic cemetery yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Theo. Mannstedt in charge.

There are people—many of them—living in this city who have never been in your store. Your store will not be completely successful as long as this is true, and it will be true until your advertising corrects it, as it will when it gets strong enough.

WANTED—Two kitchen girls and cook. Hotel Foley, 501 Mill street.

THE LA CROSSE TRIBUNE

Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday, at 121 Main St., La Crosse, Wis.

A NEWSPAPER UNION LABEL FOR THE PEOPLE

By The Tribune Publishing Company

W. V. KIDDER Managing Editor

Daily by Carrier $5.00 per year

Daily by Mail $4.00 per year

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1904, at the Post Office at La Crosse, Wis., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Special Representatives: Payne & Young, Chicago, 948 Marquette Bldg.; New York City, 105 Potter Bldg.

THE NOMAL SITE NEED IS IMMEDIATE.

It may be a fact that Mr. L. C. Colman, whose liberal position as spokesman for La Crosse when the normal regents were inquiring what this city would do in the way of a site for the new school, received genuine applause, will resent the assumption of the authority to take the responsibility away from him and the liberal associates whom he had in mind as the donors of the ground. It may be that it is his wish not to have his affair interfered with in this manner. And it may be, on the other hand, that Mr. Colman has concluded that the draft is too heavy, and welcomes the relief, or that he had no notion of backing the offer of a site. In the latter case we were mistaken, and we hasten to correct our applause.

The Tribune has no doubt of the sincerity of Mr. Colman's action at the time of the regents' visit; it believes that, if he concludes to withdraw from his position, it is after mature deliberation as to the wisdom of loading our capitalists with a burden into which the taxpayers may be drawn by force of circumstances. The idea of paying the money for the site out of the city treasury does not relieve Mr. Colman of his share of the burden, and therefore cannot be regarded as shirking of responsibility. The Colman family pays more than 15 per cent of the taxes of the city, and justice compels the statement that they have never dodged taxes by covering up their property.

There is a serious condition to be met in this normal affair. It lies in the fact that it would be extremely embarrassing to Senator Morris to go back to Madison without the right to say, "Your site is paid for, go ahead." This might result in knocking the normal in the head to begin with. Immediate action is necessary, and if the city is to buy the site, it must be before fall, not after another tax assessment too late to meet the requirements of the case.

The Tribune, and all liberal people, will support a timely appropriation for the site by the city. If, however, the thing cannot be done during the summer, we are against the taxation plan—even at the cost of begging the funds from private citizens whose wealth, however adequate, is drawn upon often and seldom without avail. A precedent for city help was established many years ago when this city voted $25,000.00 bonds to induce the location here of the normal school that finally went to Plattville, a mistake on the part of the state that has no doubt been duly regretted.

There should be an immediate understanding as to the course to be pursued so that all may act intelligently in the matter. The Tribune is ready to lend its influence to any honorable effort to raise the funds. It will, however, remain passive awaiting a frank expression from the men who have been placed in a position which gives them the right to act independently of the city if they choose. Courtesy demands that no one interfere with whatever plans these gentlemen have until notice is given that no resentment will be entertained.

TAXPAYERS AND COST OF PRINTING.

Taxpayers of La Crosse are watching with no small interest for the result of the meeting of the city council tonight at which the aldermen will decide whether La Crosse is to be held up and robbed longer for the maximum fee for public printing by virtue of a "gentlemen's agreement" between the Chronicle and Leader-Press.

It is within the power of the aldermen tonight to reject bids put in early in the month—the only legal bids being for the maximum rates—and to readvertise, thus securing competition and saving money for the city.

That there is no other course before the aldermen is evident.

And that the taxpayers of La Crosse, who, by the way, stand for a good many things without kicking over the traces, demand such action, cannot be doubted for an instant.

I DEFY

any PLUMBER, it does not matter where from, to compete with my work.

Estimates cheerfully given.

P. F. Cavanaugh
Cavanaugh & Smith
113 N. Third St.

Taxpayers have an opportunity, through their aldermen, to repudiate a "gentlemen's agreement" to hold up the city on official printing this evening.

The Standard Oil gang adheres strongly to the belief that occupants of glass houses shouldn't throw stones; hence the custom of Rockefeller "not to be interviewed."

La Follette has done more for the people in the senate in less than 100 days than some of the solons would do in as many years. And still some of the kickers will complain that he "voted with the democrats."

The Tribune will be two years old next Wednesday and thereby entitled to every legal consideration of more antiquated journals. This means the taxpayers of La Crosse and La Crosse county will save fifty per cent or more on official printing.

JUST LIFE

When I Met Her.

I saw a girl the other day whose face was wondrous sweet, Her hands were almost classic—like-wise were her feet; Her form was simply lovely—her waist was just the size, Her lips were like ripe cherries,—the sky shown in her eyes; Her features were so delicate,—like marble carved by one Who sculptures, drinks and dreams beneath the warm Italian sun. Her pose it was so queenly, her step and tone so great, I threw down all the work in hand to rush to meet my fate.

Affinity I knew she was, but then the question came, Of how to meet this dainty maid—I didn't know her name. And then by foxy "fixing," I framed it with "a friend" That he should introduce us, and help our lives to blend. And frame it up the "friend" did—he framed it quick and fast; The self same day I met her; my anxiety was past.

"Who's de mug," she queried—(she didn't catch my name), "Spruce up on yer langwidge, Mag, dis guy's a real good game." The first is what the girl said, the next came from "the friend," Here is where I end the tale, for that—that—was the end.

Swallowing Things.

An Appleton man swallowed eggs without breaking the shells and suffers no inconvenience. He should come to La Crosse and read the Trust papers.

Preaches, but Don't Practice.

John J. Rockefeller told his bible class the other day:

"It is the happiness of life to share with others what we have. There is not a man of us who has not something to share with another, whether it be physical strength, worldly wealth or opportunity. A man who has wisdom and education is a debtor to the man who has them not. The man who has opportunity or wealth is also a debtor to the man who has neither wealth nor opportunity."

The class is now wondering when he is going to begin practicing what he preaches.

Tom Lawson hasn't put the system quite out of business, yet, but he's done much, and is $4,000,000 better off personally at this stage of the game.

An eastern brewer is advertising a beer "that makes Milwaukee jealous."

It takes experience to produce wisdom.

A St. Louis man offers to build Racine a theatre if the merchants' association will guarantee to sell 1,200 seats at $10 each for the opening night. Well, that's nothing. We'll ride in an auto if anybody will buy it.

Former Agent Wilhoit's statement that "Standard Oil values its employees by their dirty work," must make the employees feel nice.

Judging from the effort of the czar to overawe the peasant deputies of the Douma by a display of tinsel, he has not discovered the days of superstition are past.

Declaration of War.

The following from the Oak Valley correspondence in the Osseo Recorder would indicate little to the average mind, as the space "between the lines" is blank. Perhaps it's some lovers' rivalry:

"The congress of the United States has the power to declare war, etc. There seems to be a congress somewhere in our midst, who has taken upon itself the power to declare war. Well so be it. Like Gen. Grant in the civil war we will also say: 'We will fight it out on this line if it takes all summer.'"

"Some ladies have a lot of trouble with the boys in this vicinity," said the new war correspondent last week. Well so it seems to me too. It must be quite a task to work so assiduously trying to get a string on an unwilling victim. Ancient history tells us that the Romans besieged the city of Troy for ten years. 'History repeats itself.' It may again. After the ten year siege Troy surrendered. Persevere and by the time leap year comes round again, the victims may be prepared for the sacrifice."

—W. V. K.

Yes, It Won't Cost Much.

A Romantic Character.

The passing of Dr. Frank Powell of La Crosse, known as "White Beaver," takes from view another of the romantic characters who achieved prominence when the West as "Indian country" into which settlers could venture only at the risk of their lives. That West has given way to one in which law and order reign, and there is no further need of venturesome scouts full of courage and chivalry.—Evening Wisconsin.

No Games Tomorrow.

La Crosse made it two straight with Oshkosh yesterday by literally swamping the visiting team to the tune of 11 to 2, and at the same time forged to the top of the percentage column, being tied with Freeport with a standing of .667.

The game was practically won in the first three innings, the score at the end of the third standing 9 to 0, and after that the locals simply "played horse," there being no chance for Oshkosh to be in at the finish.

Pitcher Safford, a southpaw for the visitors, was perhaps largely responsible for the slaughter in the first three innings and was finally sent to the bench later the game had been lost.

Medwytzky made his first appearance in left field for the locals and pulled down several flies. Cahill in center played his usual steady game, catching two difficult ones.

The game today is the last with Oshkosh in this series. The team goes to Wausau tomorrow for a series of four games, and then returns home for a series with Eau Claire.

LOCAL MILITIA IS NOT TO GO

In the event that the $700,000 appropriation for joint military encampments remains in the army appropriation bill until President Roosevelt affixes his approving signature, the Second regiment of the Wisconsin national guard will be selected to represent this state in the encampment near Indianapolis, Ind. Adj. Gen. C. R. Boardman has received from the United States war department an invitation to send a portion of the Wisconsin guard to the proposed encampment. The Wisconsin troops will go for ten days, from Sept. 10 to 19, inclusive. All arrangements are conditional upon the enactment of the necessary appropriation by congress.

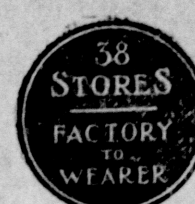

Adj. Gen. Boardman selected the Second regiment this time because the First had been with the regulars once. The turn of the Third regiment to which Co. F belongs, will come later, but a number of the men may go to Indianapolis by being transferred to some company in the Second regiment not having its full quota.

TO RAISE SUNKEN STEAMER

The work of raising the steamer Eagle Point, which sunk in nine feet of water as a result of striking a snag in the river near Cassville Monday evening at 6 o'clock, has begun and it is expected that the craft will be floated in a few days. Capt. Kimbel has not returned to his home at Eagle Point since the accident and will remain at the wreck until it is floated. Barges will be used to buoy it up and several of them have been taken down to the boat from Cassville.

The machinery of the boat is completely covered by water. The stacks and upper works protrude out and afford working space for the men employed in raising it. The hole in the hull has been located and when the craft is floated it will be brought to Eagle Point, where it will be docked at once and repaired as soon as possible. It will go in commission again this summer. The expense of raising and repairing the boat will represent an expenditure of about $1,500.
